Being different is something that is always openly or secretly admired.

Bethany is different.

You can feel it when you're watching (or winning) a soccer game or burning your hands on a stupid rope or talking to your favorite teacher (as a person) or experiencing a chapel that makes you stay awake.

Just knowing that when this many people believe in Bethany
it's got to be good!

The first part of this Witmarsum is devoted to the special things at Bethany;
the things that make up the heart of our school.

Don Hooley, Bill Spicher, Mike Stark, Doug Palmer.

If you happen

along U.S. 33 between Goshen and Elkhart the morning of April 2 and see a group of 200 or so teenagers marching down the highway don't panic!
. . . They are demonstrating
"in appreciation" . . .
of a school."

South Bend Tribune

"It was a lot of hard work.
Sometimes it seemed impossible even though we wouldn't admit it.
Through Project SUB
we rediscovered who Bethany is and why we need and want it."

"Work is love made visible" Kahlil Gibran

Friday, April 3 dawned bright and warm. Ten car washes and ten bake sales were manned in Goshen, Elkhart, and the surrounding communities. Mothers, girls, and the home ec classes had been busy making . . . cakes, cookies, brownies, noodles, and pies . . . . crews of students were sent out to do any kind of work for people who had called in and asked for them. Saturday was the big day at the school with a rummage sale, a chicken bar-b-que, . . . and a huge auction.

Together we discovered that Bethany is well worth $40,500 of hard work. CK

Chapel:

Indifference, boredom, rebellion;
Appreciation, interest, acceptance–
These are the two sides of chapel.
No one claims one side
all the time.
There are times of boredom for the most dynamic And bits of light for the most apathetic.

Soccer? Oh yeah, soccer.

Well, it's a simple game. A whole bunch of people run up and down a piece of grass kicking a ball until it goes into one of the two possible goals. The team with the most goals at the end of an expired time wins.

Soccer is many things: fun . . . a corner kick that never made it . . . excitement . . . a stupid mistake . . . frustrations . . . a "lucky" save by the gut in the other goal . . . LOUSY refs . . . a heroic save by our great goalie.

Soccer may end in three ways: winning, tying, losing.

Losing creates angry, disappointed, tired, sweaty, thirsty, hungry boys.

Tying is FRUSTRATION! "We'll mop'em next time".

Winning—it's completely different.

Winning is beautiful, enjoyable, utmost happiness, a loud ride home, and everything imaginable.

At the end of the season a tourney is played. This year during the tourney the Braves kicked the ball in more than their opponents. This resulted in a trophy. A trophy is sheer beauty.

"Wow, is it pretty."

"Can I touch it?"

"Is it real?"

Laughing, hugging everyone, congratulating each other with slaps that tingle with joy and excitement. Mr. Bodiker on the shoulders . . . showers and a swim . . . Mr. B. thrown in the pool.

And then it's over. It's really over. All done. Finished. Until next year. It will start before school takes up. Boys hustling around kicking balls on that stupid piece of grass.

But look at it again. You know, it really isn't like that at all.

One of Bethany's objectives is "to lead the student in accepting Revealed Truth." This is done by encouraging students to maintain a respect for and a reliance upon the Bible as God's uniquely inspired communication to man and by guiding students to a fuller knowledge of, and faith in, the Biblical message. Each student is required to study a Bible course each year that he is in attendance at Bethany.

Students involved in Bible study at Bethany Christian this year have the opportunity to study Biblical materials and related life issues with the individual or small group study approach. Courses are offered in Christian Family Living, Jeremiah and Esphesians, Genesis and Mark, Introduction to the Chrisian Faith, and Bible Seminar. In the Bible Seminar classes students help determine the content of the course.

The Bible faculty, Darrel Hostetler and Jim Derstine, help students become acquainted with the content of the Bible in a way which has scholastic integrity. As students become acquainted with the Biblical message, they are helped in the process of thinking through the options and questions of life which all persons face.

The Mennonite Church is a Free Church which has grown out of the Anabaptist movement. Bethany Christian attempts to remain faithful to the New Testament theological concepts of the church. This means that the Bible faculty of Bethany Christian are firmly committed to Christian discipleship and deeply believe that fullness of life and meaning can be found only in Jesus Christ. Bethany Christian is not ashamed of this stance; nevertheless, it is recognized that each person must make his own voluntary choice regarding his relationship to the Christian Church and to Jesus Christ. Bethany's task is to make Jesus Christ a real and attractive option for each student.

In the game of basketball, the

"give and go" play is executed. Life's big play is the "give and take." The "give and take" play is put into use at Bethany. Bethany's uniqueness lies in the interplay between students expounding while the faculty listen, and faculty talking while students listen. Giving and taking must be a two-way street. Along this line, too, is the concept of caring, sharing, and being concerned. Faculty members are concerned about students as persons, individuals. Students need to feel a kind of security in this setting; a freedom to share with each other and with the faculty. Both students and teachers have hearts, minds, and feelings. Each is a unique individual who sympathizes and empathizes.

Expression:

The freedom felt when you can do exactly what you want with a piece of paper or block of wood to make others feel as you do.
Learning to express yourself is important.
Art is one way—
and it's fun!

Music:

It's really thrilling to find out that something you thought merely sounded pretty really is a part of a very complicated and delicate system.
And it's all there just waiting to be explored!

Another exchange student to Bethany? Yes, that's me . . . all the way from Jamaica!

At first I found it a bit hard to adjust to the American way of life which was a little different than what I was accustomed to. Luckily for me, we speak English in Jamaica, and so it was much easier in that respect for me. One of my major problems was saying "Mom and Dad" to my new parents. It was very difficult for me; I don't know why.

Adjustment to school was another problem for me—especially to a small school. The first fear I had about coming to a small school was the number of speeches and different activities that I would have to participate in. This kind of scared me at first but after meeting some of the kids my fears were soon calmed down. Bethany has done so much for me. The size and the warmth of the school I think are responsible for this. The school that I attended in Jamaica was so much larger and it was difficult to talk with other girls about any problems with ease. This I have found among the girls here at Bethany. They can discuss anything that bothers them with their fellow students and this I think is very good. The teachers I think play a major part in this respect. They are just wonderful and there isn't one teacher whom I can say hasn't got an interest in his students.

I am enjoying my year here in Indiana and at Bethany. My coming here was one of the best things that has ever happened to me. I know I shall find it very difficult to leave, but I hope to be back some day. May God bless you all.

You saw the results
once each three weeks.
We remember more of cherry pie fights raspberry ripple ice cream at midnight of talks and arguments gluing down and ripping up.
We worked together to share something of ourselves to find a better understanding.
The hours came and went and we stayed on to reach the end to meet our goal learning to produce learning too to fail.

The committee gathers to brainstorm and unanimously decides. "Let's be original!"

"It'll never be as good as ours."

Sketchy plans are made by Christmas, and a 90' chalk masterpiece of the Old South is created over spring vacation.

"Let 'em work. We did."

Grief over a too-tight budget, big after-banquet plans, and finally the gym doors are locked for a week.

"I know what it is–Noah's Ark!"

Last minute tensions, the mad scramble to finish, and a half hour to don formal attire.

"Hey, not bad!"

It seems nothing ever changes–

–yet nothing is ever the same.
Time moves on and carries us with it.
We find ourselves beginning a new era,
–but it's different this time–
We're on our own now; Decisions, problems, they're all ours now.
This is when we find out how ready we really are.
. . . And this symbolizes it all;
these ceremonies.

They mean whatever we want them to –now
But later we will realize.

Why must it always be later?

With the first flakes of

With the first flakes of snow came thoughts of skiing, hot chocolate and fireplaces. Alas, we were confined to classrooms for another month. In an attempt to bring the beauty of outdoors into Bethany, the Home Ec. club miraculously inspired our rafters to sprout their own paper snow storm.

Chorus members were kept busy wrapping up last minute Christmas program plans.

Mumbled German and Spanish carols found their way to several lucky (?) Goshen homes.

Students relaxed in the exotic Jamaican atmospher sphere of the annual Christmas banquet, enjoying it in spite of the fact that most thoughts were centered on the long awaited two weeks of freedom.

Slam the ball, wham the ball,

Hit it over the fence.
Swing hard and straight, and yet don't wait,
Or you may swing too late.
Stride into the ball and yet not fall
And watch the call, whether strike or ball.

Run those base paths, tear 'em up,
And if you see the throw 'a comin'
Be alert, and hit the dirt.
Learn to slide, but not too wide,
Use your rear and not your side.

Be a fielder, watch the bounce,
A mistake right there, really counts.
Out-guess the batter, use lots of chatter,
So that you, his nerves might shatter.
Be always aware, you really should share,
And, try to play fair.

Administrators are the servants of those who serve. Their task is to help others do their task easier, more efficiently and more effectively. Administrators serve by listening and questioning . . . by pondering and examining . . . by weighing and then deciding. The decision may be good or bad, right or wrong, thus making the administrator the hero or the villain. The decisions are important–some are far-reaching, some inconsequential. Bethany's administration know that the decisions are important, but they also know that the decision-making process is just as important; it is just as relevant for educational value.

Because of each other we are more:

We took the upper seat this year . . . important to the smooth running of this school system. We felt more deeply the affects of learning, growing, loving, hating, living. We leave each other with a true sense of regret, yet know that four years have been enough. We have learned from each other, we must make something of that knowledge.

"uh, hello?"
"This is Mrs. Hostetler. It's 6:00, time to get up."
"Oh, okay . . . z-z-z."

"Wow! Look at that big building, makes ya dizzy just to look up."
"you can hardly see the sky."
"Hey! Mr. Culp says to hurry it up!
"We're strung out over 3 blocks and we've got to go see the New York Stock Exchange, the Empire State Building, Rockefeller Center, Lincoln Center, and the American Bible Society yet today and it's already 3:30!!"

"You mean to tell me that we're gonna climb all the way up that thing? Well, maybe you are, but my feet will fall off if I even attempt it."
"Well, if you want old George to get mad at you for not climbing his monument, go ahead, but I'm gonna climb it if it kills me."
"It will, buddy, it will."

" . . . z-z-z . . . z-z-z . . . z-z-z uh, oh, what time is it?"

"6:30. We're almost home, we just went through Middlebury."
"Oh, I'm so tired . . . yawn . . . when I get home I'm gonna sleep all day."
"I think maybe I'll go down . . . yawn . . . yawn . . . ah yawn . . . z-z-z . . . z-z-z."

We're upperclassmen for the first time.

We're actually being looked up to,
and it's rather scary.
We seem to be observing and learning so much more than just what is in the book in front of us.
Bad days seem more frequent for some of us,
but that's growing up.
Lots of us are really searching,
and sometimes it's painful.
Sometimes we're so much like brothers and sisters it's sickening.
At other times it's great!

To go or not to go,

That was the question,
Hours of thought,
Then the decision.
Entering the building–
Upper classmen superiority front
Smothered scoffs
Hearty laughs
Why?
Because we are Freshmen!
We meet new friends Confront a different atmosphere and school structure
No bad reputations
No past faults for others to refer to Why?
Because we are Freshmen!

You are a child of the universe,
no less than the trees and the stars;
you have a right to be here.
And whether or not it is clear to you, no doubt the universe is unfolding as it should.
Therefore be at peace with God, whatever you conceive him to be,
and whatever your labors and aspirations, in the noisy confusion of life,
keep peace with your soul.

With all its shame, drudgery and broken dreams,
it is still a beautiful world.

UNITY

finding yourself, god, others

Eastern Mennonite College isn't an academic factory, granting degrees to students who survive a four-year incubation. Unity doesn't just happen among 957 students and 109 faculty from dozens of states and countries.

Unity is a new library, intercultural seminars (in Mexico or New York City, for example), a prayer cell. EMC students search for truth in the realms of mind and spirit. Each thinks differently, but all experience a bond of spirit. That's unity worth exploring.

Director of Admissions
Eastern Mennonite College
Harrisonburg, Virginia 22801

Something is wrong with the church and the world. People have been saying that since the Reformation. And we still are. That's part of what the Goshen Plan is all about. Not just the bad things. But what a young person needs to know to serve God and fellow man. Effectively. To make his life and service worthwhile.

A lot of people don't really understand what it means to be seriously dedicated to Christ and to all that He means in the 20th century. We put together literature, fine arts, history, science, sociology, Bible, and philosophy plus a unique Study-Service Trimester abroad in an exciting and revealing course of studies. Last year 1,168 full-time students spent almost one and one-half million hours learning about their heritage and how to improve on it. To develop their Christian witness and meaning and purpose in their lives.

CONGRATULATIONS
Class of '71

Today is the first day of the remainder of your life.

To have it full:

put on a smile

a bit of kindness

a bit of love,

and may those who follow you be able to say:

"IT HAS INDEED BEEN GOOD, YOU HAVE WALKED THIS WAY".

The very best wishes,

V.H. Steury, Pres.
